

HAVE YOU HAD THE TALK?

How to talk with your teen about sexual assault on campus

1. Start the conversation: Ask your teen what they think about sexual assault on college campuses

2. Talk about real risks, not myths

3. Offer your vote of confidence

4. Encourage bystander intervention

5. Stress the importance of consent

6. Identify campus resources and support systems

7. Establish an open line of communication

Rape is never the fault of the victim.
Help is available: rainn.org | 800.656.HOPE